

Progress Being Made at St. Theresa Place

St. Theresa Place is our most ambitious project of the year. When all is said and done, St. Theresa Place will be a beautiful subdivision of 14 homes, built on a large portion of the land where the St. Theresa Catholic Church and School once stood. For over 70 years, St. Theresa was a cornerstone of northern Evansville's Catholic community, and a vibrant place of worship, learning, and community for its parishioners. Though the buildings are now gone, St. Theresa Parish leaves behind an incredible legacy that we seek to celebrate and honor through this project. By working in close partnership with many St. Theresa alumni and former parishioners on this endeavor, Habitat will help preserve that legacy.

Even in the time of COVID-19, the project has progressed at a steady pace since its groundbreaking back in August of 2020. Habitat's Core Crew and many volunteers, including five AmeriCorps members who recently spent several weeks with us on a temporary program, have been working tirelessly through these chilly winter months. In November 2020, we saw the first foundation of the first home laid. Now, as we enter the spring of 2021, 12 of the 14 homes are currently under construction. Two homes are nearing their final stages, having been fully painted as of February 2021. An additional five homes are currently being framed.

St. Theresa Place is no small undertaking, and although we are excited to share the substantial progress that has been made, there is still work to be done! Generous Habitat supporters have contributed over 86 percent of the funds needed to make these homes a reality, and construction is slated for completion at the end of 2021 or early 2022.

Making St. Theresa Place a Reality

Thank You, Father Ted!

When the St. Theresa Place Advisory Council met for the first time, Fr. Ted Tempel shared just how much his ministry at St. Theresa, where he served as pastor from 1979–1993, meant to him. He was quick to say it wasn't the buildings that mattered. "It was the people — that sense of community — that we tried to build. We worked together and played together and accomplished a lot together."

Fr. Ted has always been dedicated to following Jesus' teaching that "whatever you do to the least of these, you do to Me." He is known in our community as someone who helps, not just the economically poor, but also those who are lonely, forgotten, in need of a friend — people who need hope. When he found out that Habitat was going to build 14 houses on the property which was formerly St. Theresa, he knew this was a way to breathe new life into the community and as the saying goes, "cometh the hour, cometh the man."

By reaching out to the countless individuals who knew and loved him, Fr. Ted singlehandedly raised more than a million dollars for St. Theresa Place. The 14-house subdivision will be a reality because of Fr. Ted and the generous individuals who responded to his invitation. Thank you, Fr. Ted!

Thank You, Rex Mundi Mighty Monarchs!

On October 13, 2020, a veritable army of Rex Mundi Monarchs — all proud alums of the Evansville Catholic high school which operated from 1958 to 1972 — gathered at the Habitat office (masked and socially distanced) to write to their classmates about supporting the Rex Mundi Build in St. Theresa Place.

What a response they had! Over $106,000 has been raised thus far and the three amigos from the class of 1969 who led the project — Dan DiLegge, Randy Mattingly and Steve Titzer — knew that when you joined the Mighty Monarch spirit with a great cause like Habitat for Humanity, a fire would be ignited.

The pandemic caused an all-school reunion planned for the summer of 2020 to be postponed but when the Monarchs do eventually gather in Evansville, a tour of the Rex Mundi Build and St. Theresa Place is promised!

St. Theresa Place Advisory Council

The St. Theresa Place Advisory Council consists of over 30 former St. Theresa parishioners and graduates, community leaders, and neighborhood champions. They are spearheading the St. Theresa Place project, and seek to preserve the legacy of St. Theresa Parish by celebrating, not so much the buildings that were once there, but the special individuals and families who shared life there together in beautiful, creative ways.

Save-the-Dates

Faith in the Future Day

Join us on May 13 to celebrate our big announcement — we are gearing up for allowing all community volunteers back on construction sites in June, and we need new folks to help us!

Faith in the Future Day will be a chance to come out, socialize, share an appetizer (on us!) and learn about how you can get involved either in our office or on a work site. Current volunteers and friends of Habitat are welcome, as is anyone interested in learning more about what we do.

Damsel Brew Pub

209 Wabash Ave. of Flags

Date: Thursday, May 13, 2021

Get Up and Get Building!

June 4 is our big kick-off — the first day we will officially re-open to volunteers! Those who met with us May 13 and are interested in getting out on a construction site are encouraged to come and do so on that day and bring a friend!

We will build in the morning and our celebration will go through the late afternoon. We will have food trucks and beverages on site, live entertainment and more! All in the community are welcome and encouraged to attend, celebrate and learn about our mission, whether you want to help build on this day or not!

Habitat has TWO New Giving Societies!

Loyal Donor Society

The Loyal Donor Society was established to recognize Habitat supporters who give without fail every year. Donors first become eligible to join the Loyal Donor Society when they reach a consecutive giving threshold of five years.

Homebuilders Society

The Habitat Homebuilders Society was established to recognize the cumulative giving of Habitat partners — those who, in their lifetimes, have contributed $20,000 or more to Habitat's homebuilding ministry. The Habitat Homebuilders Society also recognizes individuals and couples who have made a gift of $1,000 or more to Habitat's annual campaign for the first time during that fiscal year.

Levels of the Homebuilders Society are named for historic and current-day leaders of Habitat for Humanity International, including Millard Fuller, Clarence Jordan, Clive Rainey and Jonathan Reckford.

These societies will be recognized annually in the Habitat for Humanity of Evansville Annual Report. For more information, please contact Holly Edmond at hedmond@evansvillehabitat.org.

Welcome to the Habitat Team!

Join us in welcoming the newest member of our Habitat Evansville team, Megan Parish! Megan's family has always been passionate about Habitat's mission. It was her grandfather's favorite charity, her uncle regularly volunteers on build sites at an affiliate in northern Indiana, and she volunteered with Habitat Evansville back in 2017. Megan was hired as Communications Manager early this year and she is looking forward to serving her community through this new role.

Megan Parish

Habitat Is a Top 40 Affiliate!

Each year Habitat for Humanity International salutes the top 40 affiliates across the country based on house production. Once again Habitat Evansville — along with much larger cities like Atlanta, Fort Worth, Miami and Charlotte — was named to this elite "Top 40" group.

Habitat Evansville, which serves Vanderburgh and Posey counties, ranked 25th with a three-year house production average of 19.3. There are 1,178 Habitat affiliates in the United States.

You make our important work possible! Thanks for all you do to create a world where everyone has a decent place to live.

Welcome New Board Members

Denise Greenwell, Greg Head, Mike Hinton, Andy Niemeier, Tyler Stock, and Charles Sutton

"By investing your time and resources in Habitat, you are helping a family in need and providing them the opportunity to succeed in their life. I love that Habitat provides these hands-on opportunities for people to use their strengths and skills to contribute to building homes and families in our community."

— Andy Niemeier, Co-CEO, Azzip Pizza

"Habitat for Humanity delivers on their mission in everything they do to enrich the lives of their homeowners and our community. From application to dedication, the staff ensures the homeowner is involved, educated, and vested in the process to ensure the best possible outcome. [The best part is] meeting a future homeowner and hearing about their journey to complete the requirements for homeownership. They are so grateful, appreciative and excited about all they learn during the training session to support their journey."

— Denise Greenwell, Product Director
Commercialization; Consumer Packaging – North America, Berry Global

"I think that Habitat of Evansville is a great organization that helps individuals and families reach homeownership and further builds up our community with hope and revitalization. I would encourage anyone who has a heart for helping to considering joining this organization as a volunteer and/or contributor. If you feel inclined to get your hands dirty, then join the Core Crew; you can choose to work one to three days per week, as you are able, and will be rewarded with the opportunity to learn new things, work with some good people and directly touch the lives of new homeowners."

— Greg Head, Retired, Vice President, WB Koester Construction

"The effective execution of Habitat for Humanity Evansville's mission in bringing people together to build homes and build community is what motivated me to get involved. Learning that every dollar donated goes into the mission of building homes, experiencing the outcomes through home dedications and a family's unique story, on top of the community building process, is inspiring and infectious. I don't remember where I first heard or experienced the phrase and action of, "many hands make light work" but those words acknowledge the work of Habitat for Humanity and its building partners during their 37-year history in Evansville. I am humbled to be a board member and lend a hand."

— Charles Sutton, Social Impact Research Manager, Evansville Vanderburgh Public Library

"I am looking forward to working with such an engaged and focused staff and board. Beth Folz, the executive director, along with the entire staff and board, are passionately committed to fulfilling the mission of "Seeking to put God's love into action, Habitat for Humanity brings people together to build homes, communities, and hope." This commitment to the mission and the family-centric focus they have is inspiring. I certainly look forward to the value I can bring to the board and being a part of the impact Habitat continues to bring to Evansville communities!"

— Tyler Stock, Talent 2025 Project Manager, Junior Achievement of Southwestern Indiana

Our sixth new board member, Mike Hinton, Chairman and CEO, Lochmueller Group, will be featured in our next newsletter.

Habitat Happenings

Women Build Program with Old National Bank

Since 1991, the Women Build program has been empowering women to be active participants in the construction process, and Habitat Evansville is proud to have had a Women Build home sponsorship every other year for the past 20 years! This year,

Habitat is partnering with Old National Bank on a new Women Build program, "Building Homes. Building Leaders." A group of passionate women are lending their time, energy, and fundraising efforts to help DeAdria B. realize her dream of homeownership!

DeAdria and the Women Build group have now helped raise the walls, install the doors and windows, and paint the home, while also building community amongst themselves along the way. Their fundraising efforts will not only impact DeAdria and her family, but other young women in the community through a Community Leadership Program. We thank Old National Bank for their partnership on this effort, as well as all of the women involved!

SICTC Students Build a House

Southern Indiana Career & Technical Center (SICTC) teachers and students are partnering with Habitat to build a home over the course of this school year, the first of its kind. The United Church of Christ and Disciples of Christ churches are funding the house and happy for the SICTC partnership, as COVID restrictions have limited their volunteer involvement.

Mara Higdon, an SICTC student working on the Habitat for Humanity project said, "This house project takes the theory that we learned in the classroom and turns it into a reality. In the classroom we learned a lot about the Pythagorean Theorem to lay out the house on the lot. We also learned how to use laser levels to set grade and how to dig and pour concrete in the footing. I believe that the Habitat project will help me and many other students get ready for highly skilled, high-wage jobs whenever we graduate from high school. It's a great opportunity for all of the students to learn and grasp the information we are learning to take out into the building trades world."

Holistic Neighborhood Revitalization Effort in Tepe Park, Centered Around Bedford Collab

An $85,000 grant from Republic Services, matched by CenterPoint Energy, will fund the restoration and repair of the former Bedford Tavern in the Tepe Park Neighborhood. The grant was secured through a national partnership with Habitat for Humanity and Republic Services, designed to encourage entrepreneurship and strengthen small businesses weakened by the pandemic. The refurbished building will be called the Bedford Collab and will house a space for business incubation and a community kitchen for budding chefs and caterers.

Bedford Collab will serve as a centerpiece of larger revitalization initiatives in the Tepe Park Neighborhood. Several HOUSE organizations (Housing Organizations United Serving Evansville) — including HOPE of Evansville, Memorial Community Development Corporation and Habitat — will be building or restoring homes around the Bedford Collab. Another HOUSE member, Community One, will continue repairs and rehabs as well as facilitating Tepe Park's quality of life plan and providing other supportive services in the neighborhood.

Todd Chamberlain, division sales manager with Republic Services, says, "Republic Services and Habitat for Humanity are proud of their partnership in support of building positive, community-developed housing that fosters economic development and stability for families across the nation and in our local communities. This partnership is founded on the joint mission to revitalize neighborhoods and increase the opportunity for individual homeownership sought by so many."

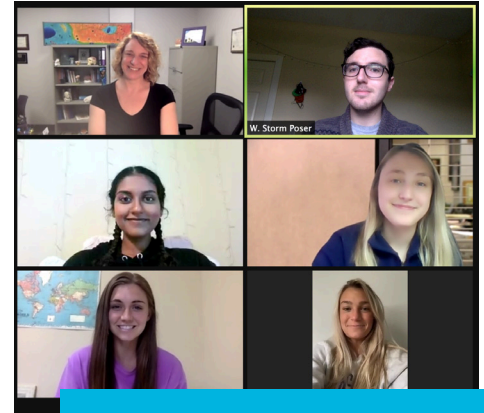

Habitat and UE do an annual Barn Blitz where students help us build barns! Mini Blitzes are being held April 10 and April 24 this year in accordance with health and safety guidelines.

A group of generous UE students shoveled snow during February and donated 15% of their proceeds to Habitat!

The UE ChangeLab is a class led by Dr. Lora Becker; the ChangeLab is currently using their research skills to help us improve our marketing!

AmeriCorps Team

AmeriCorps is a national civil service program whose members give their time working for nonprofit organizations, tackling the challenges and addressing the needs of communities across the country. Five young leaders — Alexis, Charlie, Helen, Ocean, and Eli — were assigned to work with Habitat for a temporary period. Their days were spent on a variety of tasks: working on our construction sites, helping out in the ReStore, and building barns in our warehouse, each contributing approximately 40 hours of work per week. After hours, the group completed other program requirements.

The AmeriCorps team's help came at an especially vital and appreciated time due to the complications of bringing community volunteers to worksites during COVID-19.

The team was previously assigned to work at several other nonprofits in other Midwestern cities and was anticipated to remain in Evansville until early April. However, the AmeriCorps team was asked to leave early to help in Rochester, New York, as the city attempts to keep up with demands for their COVID-19 vaccination program. Thank you, Alexis, Charlie, Helen, Ocean, and Eli, for your work with us and wishing you well in your future service!

Susan Weis Award

Susan Weis personally helped over 80 families become homeowners during her four years as Habitat's mortgage administration specialist and hundreds more through her service on the Family Selection Committee and as chair, for six years, of Catholics for Habitat. She passed away December 5, 2019, after a long battle with cancer, leaving behind her husband David and children Aaron, Anna, Andrew and Addie.

Catholics for Habitat will be honoring Susan's commitment to selfless service by awarding the Susan Weis Legacy Award to an individual, business, family or family foundation for outstanding commitment, over a period of five or more years, to bringing people together to build homes, communities and hope.

Andrew Nalin and Luke Nordine of Catholics for Habitat are co-chairing the development of the Susan Weis Legacy Award and plan to have members of the Weis family present the award during the Catholics for Habitat home dedication.

Lutherans for Habitat Celebrate 30th Home Sponsorship

From 1993 to 2020, the Lutherans for Habitat have sponsored the building of 30 Habitat homes! Thank you to this generous, community-minded group for supporting the Habitat ministry for so many years! Their contributions and good work have helped 30 local families build strength, stability, and self-reliance through shelter. We applaud you for your continued devotion to building alongside these families and helping them realize their dream of homeownership.

Habitat Remembers Those We've Lost

Monica Stinchfield

Sadly, one of Habitat's most capable and dedicated volunteers, Monica Stinchfield, died of COVID complications on December 1, 2020. Monica served as a member of Habitat's Board of Directors and chair of the Family Selection Committee for 17 years. She was President of the Board from 2014–2016.

During that time, she contributed mightily to many major efforts undertaken by the organization, including the New Haven Subdivision, which housed victims of the 2005 tornado; the Glenwood Community Development Initiative, where her efforts resulted in a $285,000 grant through the Federal Home Loan Bank of Indianapolis' Affordable Housing Program to complete Shadewood Place; and finally, leading Habitat's training and compliance efforts to meet standards of the 2010 Mortgage Reform Act.

Hardworking, passionate, motivated, loyal — all the qualities one would want to see in an employee were Monica's. She spent her entire professional career at First Federal Savings Bank where, after 41 years of service, she retired as senior vice president. She was recognized with countless awards along the way, First Federal's Volunteer of the Year (2011); Women's Council of Realtors "Member of the Year" (2002, 2006); USI's Phenomenal Women Award (2013) and Habitat's Dee McMillin Volunteer of the Year Award (2009).

Rest in peace, Monica, and may your good works follow you. Prayers and sympathy go out to Darrell, her sister Tez, niece MeLissa and all her extended family.

Catherine Walter Groben

Habitat for Humanity of Evansville recently received its largest estate gift ever, a gift of $348,000, from long-time supporter Catherine Walter Groben. Catherine had previously sponsored three Habitat homes in Evansville, with the last two — the Faith Build and the Hope Build — built entirely by Knights of Columbus volunteers. Catherine's gift will be used to help four more families transform their lives through homeownership.

Catherine was born in Evansville in 1924 and graduated from Central High School. She and her husband, Sy, moved to San Diego, California, in 1958 where she was employed as a typist by the State of California. She retired in 1988 and returned to Evansville in 2008. At the time of her death, Christmas Eve, 2019, she lived in Westerville, Ohio.

Catherine always said she was put on this earth to do good, and Habitat for Humanity of Evansville is so grateful that she enabled seven families to build a strong, stable and self-reliant future as part of her life's purpose. She became the 73rd member of the Perigo-Prickett Society, Habitat's planned giving and endowment society.

In Memoriam

Habitat mourns the loss of many members of the Habitat family during the past year and asks for prayers for peace and consolation for their loved ones.

WELCOME HOME

Uncle Sam Wants You To Give $300 (or more!) to Habitat!

That's right! If you, like the majority of taxpayers who are claiming the standard deduction, give $300 to Habitat (or any other qualifying charity), you can deduct that $300 ABOVE-THE-LINE when you file your 2021 taxes! That means you can subtract $300 ($600 if both you and your spouse give and you file jointly) from your gross income in order to calculate your adjusted gross income!

Likewise, because of pandemic circumstances and the need to get money to non-profits who are facing extraordinary challenges, taxpayers who itemize deductions can continue to take advantage of the temporary suspension of the 60 percent charitable contribution deduction limitation.

As always, contact your trusted tax, legal or financial advisor for the latest information on how recent legislation is affecting charitable giving and learn how to make the most tax-advantageous gift possible to Habitat.

Homeowner Spotlight

"I'm excited because this will be the first time I've owned my own house, and my daughter will be able to go out and play in her own backyard. After I complete the homeownership program, I want to continue to help build Habitat homes and volunteer at the ReStore. I want to help others build their homes from the ground up."
